What better way to teach scarcity than a friendly game of musical chairs?

RESOURCES:

- Just an FYI: February is a weird month for gifted classes... Between Dauphin Island (4th), practice ACAP testing, the school-wide field trip, and off-campus training (for me), we will not be operating on our normal pull-out class schedule at all this month. If you have a question about when your child will be in my class, just shoot me a message!
- Cash Kid Podcast- Student out of Birmingham started this podcast on Economics for Kids after learning about econ and the stock market in his gifted class. Your kids will love this
